Dear KS1 Parents/Guardians,

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to inform you about an important upcoming lesson in our Jigsaw PSHE curriculum that will be taking place in the next couple of weeks.

As part of our commitment to providing a comprehensive education that supports the whole child, we will be discussing the physical differences between girls and boys and using the correct names of body parts. We will also teach children that some parts of our bodies are private. This lesson is designed to help children understand their bodies, promote body confidence, and provide them with the correct vocabulary to communicate about their bodies effectively.

The vocabulary the children will be taught is:

Boy/male
Girl/female
Penis
Vagina
Testicles
Private Public

We believe that educating children about their bodies is a crucial part of their development and helps lay the foundation for future learning about health and well-being. If you have any questions or concerns about this lesson, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Thank you for your continued support.

Best regards,

Jane Townsend
Headteacher
